If Speaker Henderson knew how it was going maybe he wouldn't have pulled out. To keep himself alive it is now said that he will be a candidate for Governor next term, against Governor Cummins, the tariff revisionist, who doesn't worship at the shine of the trusts.

They had to dispense with an election at one of the West Virginia precincts at the last election because the fellow who had charge of the ballot box had swapped it off for a dog. When found he was going around with his dog tied to a string and didn't seem to care whether election held or not.

A Denver priest, who has invented several life-saving devices, has, with a strange perversity, now gone to work constructing an air ship of his own invention, which he says will not only sail a hundred miles an hour, but will be bullet proof. But he hasn't given any proof of it yet.

There is a gratifying reduction in the number of fatalities and injuries to employes on the railroads of this country as a result of the use of automatic coupling devices. In 1898 the killed numbered 433, in 1900, 282; in 1901, 189; the injured, 11,277 in 1898; 5,339 in 1900, and 2,768 in 1901, compared with 143 killed this year, and 2,113 injured. But still there is greater loss of life and injury to trainmen and passengers by collisions and other accidents, numbering 2,550 killed and 36,693 injured in 1900, the worst showing since 1893, when there were more killed but fewer injured.

THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Neither University Nor A. & M. Scored in Brilliant Football Contest Yesterday Afternoon at Raleigh

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 8.—In the State championship game of football this afternoon between the University of North Carolina and the A. & M. College neither side scored. It was the finest game ever seen on the local gridiron, and was witnessed by 1,500 people. The result was a great surprise, as it was expected the "Farmer" team would be easy marks for the "Varsity." The A. & M. is jubilant over the result, regarding it as a victory for them. The game was fierce from the start; both teams strove with dogged determination. The star work for the Carolina was by Holt, half back; Berkely, left half; Jacobs, right half, and Captain Foust. For the A. & A., Devlin, left tackle; Robeson, full back, and Welch, right half back, were the stars. The work of the whole team was fine. There were no sensational features. The game lasted two hours. The halves were 25 and 20 minutes each. A very high wind prevailed. Three University players were disabled and substitutes went back in during the last half.

FOURTEENN ARRESTS BY POLICE.

An Unusual Amount of Disorder Upon Closing Scenes of the Carnival.

Fourteen arrests were made by the police up to last midnight. None of them were for very grave offences, although several were for assault and battery with a deadly weapon.

Proprietor Hines, of the "snake-eater" show, was assaulted by a white man with brass knucks and Mr. "Rem" Jones was assaulted with knucks at Second and Market streets by a stranger named Turlington, who accused Jones of throwing confetti in his eyes.

Special Officer C. T. Croom arrested two negroes who assaulted some of the "hobby horse" managers, and two others who had a fight near Dock street.

In none of the cases was serious injury done.

Distinguished Lutheran Divine.

Rev. J. A. Morehead, D. D., the distinguished president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Charleston, S. C., and for several years pastor of the leading English Lutheran church in Richmond, Va., will conduct Reformation services at St. Matthew's English Lutheran church, North Fourth street, this morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Morehead and family are the guests of Rev. G. D. Bernheim while in the city. Dr. Morehead travelled in Europe last winter and attended lectures at leading universities of Germany. He is an able scholar and an eloquent preacher. His sermon will be a treat for all present.

Slight A. C. L. Wreck.

Florence Times 8th: "The northbound passenger train, No. 78, came in about five hours late to day. The delay was caused by the road being blockaded two miles out from Jacksonville by a derailed freight engine. The wrecking train was sent, out from Waycross to clear the track, and it was several hours before the road was open. No one was injured by the accident."

Restoration of Streets.

The Sewerage Company has begun the restoration of Market street from the damage done by excavations last Spring. The top dressing is, however, being laid without the use of a roller. A number of residents along that street suggest that a heavy road roller be run over the material to make the surface compact.

COURT ADJOURNED.

Three Defendants Arraigned For Capital Offences and Their Cases Continued.

THE GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

Number of Improvements Recommended Court House Green Not For Pasturage Purposes and Building Not a Storage Room—Cases.

The one-week term of Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases adjourned yesterday about noon and Judge Bryan left at 2:25 P. M. for his home in Newbern. Next week he and Solicitor Duffy will go to Kinston to hold Lenoir Superior Court.

The term just ended did not clear all the cases on the docket, but another term for the trial of criminal matters will be convened two weeks hence.

Argument upon the motion to arrest judgment in the case of Jim Townsend, found guilty the day before of having rocked an Atlantic Coast Line excursion train, was resumed yesterday morning. The petition for the granting of the motion was successfully argued by Herbert McClammy and Brooke G. Empie, Esqs., and Townsend gets another trial at the next term. The other proceedings of the forenoon were as follows:

It was ordered that the fine of $40 against Hugh MacRae and Thos. H. Rollins be stricken out.

Morton Fuller, assault with deadly weapon; verdict guilty and sentenced to four months on the public roads.

In the case of State vs. John Dawsen, Ellen Whitehurst, a witness, being called and failed, was fined $80. Later judgment was stricken out.

T. R. Morgan, assault with deadly weapon, pleaded not guilty; verdict not guilty.

John Dawson, larceny; verdict guilty and sentenced to six months on county roads.

Ed. French and Walter McKay, charged with murder, were brought into court and formally arraigned. Each plead not guilty. Orange Jessie, for burglary, was similarly arraigned and pleaded the same. Messrs. B. G. Empie and Herbert McClammy appear for McKay and Mr. Empie for the defendant in each of the other cases.

Rufus Pierce, assault with deadly weapon; sentenced changed to ninety days on the public roads.

The grand jury came into court in a body and presented a true bill against Wm. Jones for rape. Jones is charged with having committed a criminal assault upon a colored girl at Wrightsville Sound last Summer.

The Grand Jury's Report.

The grand jury having consumed all the time allotted for the pursuance of its investigations, came into court upon its adjournment and presented the following report:

Hon. Henry R. Bryan, Judge Fifth District:

We have disposed of all the cases which have come before us, and given as much time as possible to new business, having sent up 29 true bills and 6 not true bills. We have had before us a paper from many property owners asking that the owners of certain property rented for alleged immoral purposes be prosecuted but in the limited time at our disposal have not been able to conclude our investigation, and have therefore returned the complaint with a list of witnesses.

A committee from the grand jury has inspected the jail and the Court House. The committee calls attention to the condition of the faucets in the jail—to the walls which are discolored—to the ceiling of the basement—to all of which attention has been heretofore called. The committee also calls attention to the fact that there is a tin shop in the jail, whether by permission of the county authorities or not, they cannot say. In other respects, as to food, etc, the conditions are good.

As to the Court House—the basement is littered with old furniture, election boxes and unclaimed property and therefore dirty and unkmept. We recommend that this material be placed in some one room in orderly condition. We find two holes cut through foundation walls under each entrance and recommend that they be closed. We find the northeast room damp on the floor, caused from water coming up through the cement floor. The offices we find on the first floor in good condition and well kept, except the walls in the office of the Superintendent of Education, which are discolored by water from a closet overhead. The plumbing of this floor is in good condition. We find closet in the yard in a condition needing attention to doors and frames which are rotten. Ashes from the furnace are scattered over the yard. They should be deposited in one place or used to make a walk to the closet. We find that a cow is pastured in the Court House lot, which leaves the yard in a filthy condition. This should be abated and the yard which is in full view of the public, cleaned up. We recommend that blankets be furnished to prisoners in the jail. Respectfully,

WALTER G. MACRAE, Foreman.
Grand Jury for Nov. term, 1902.

A Marriage Announcement.

Friends in the city yesterday received the following announcement: "Mr. George Henry Haar and Miss Helen Rosalie Quhane announce their marriage on Wednesday, November 5th, one thousand nine hundred and two, New York. At home Wednesdays in December, 408 South Fifth street, Wilmington, N. C."

A Multiplicity of Charges.

Joe Johnson, colored, was held by Justice Fowler for the higher court yesterday on the triple charge of larceny, assault with deadly weapon and carrying concealed weapons. He couldn't give $25 bond and went to jail for the term to be convened two weeks hence.

BANDMASTER INNES IS ILL.

Taken to Philadelphia For Operation, and All Southern Engagements Cancelled—Disappointment Here.

Local theatre-goers and especially the musical contingent of the city were sadly disappointed at the announcement yesterday that owing to the sudden illness of Bandmaster Innes, his band would not appear at the Academy at night.

Messrs. Cowan Bros., managers of the Academy, received two telegrams, the first from Innes' manager in New York, saying: "Innes is ill with appendicitis. Tour closed at Raleigh. All dates cancelled." The second telegram was received from Raleigh, where the band played Friday night. It said: "Innes is sick with appendicitis and is being taken to Philadelphia for operation to-morrow. Tour abandoned. Further particulars by mail."

BANDMASTER INNES
Stricken With Appendicitis Yesterday in Raleigh.

No one regretted the cancellation of the engagement more than the local management, but under the circumstances, of course, it could not be helped. The cancellation results in a financial loss to all parties concerned. The Band was booked for a matinee engagement at Newbern yesterday afternoon and that, too, had to be abandoned. The Band expected to have arrived here on a special train from Newbern yesterday afternoon.

The Band played to a large audience at Raleigh Friday evening and gave great satisfaction. The advance sale here was good and had Innes appeared, he would have no doubt been greeted by a large house.

GEN. GORDON COMING NOV. 20TH.

In His New Lecture, "The First Days of the Confederacy."

Gen. Gordon's new lecture, "The First Days of the Confederacy," is pronounced by those who have heard it as fully equal in all respects to the "Last Days." Indeed many of the most competent critics think it the more powerful lecture of the two. It is a vivid portrayal of the wild and often ludicrous scenes enacted at the beginning of the war and the boundless enthusiasm which prevailed. In it General Gordon depicts many of the thrilling scenes in the great battles occurring in the first years of the war, interspersing pathetic incidents and amusing anecdotes, while the whole lecture is pitched on the highest plaine of brotherhood, sectional fraternity and intense Americanism. Wherever it is delivered it is regarded as a benediction.

All who had the pleasure of hearing Gen. Gordon's thrilling lecture, "The Last Days of the Confederacy," delivered in Wilmington a few years ago, will be delighted to know that the gallant Commander of the United Confederate Veterans, will deliver his new lecture at the Academy of Music, Thursday night, Nov. 20th.

Cells For Colored Prisoners.

Contractor James H. Burriss has completed the new cells for colored prisoners at the station house, and a neat job he has made of it, too. The cells are substantial and comfortable. They were used for the first time last night. Chairman Z. E. Murrell, of the Public Building Committee, is the right man in the right place, and Contractor Burriss has carried out his desires exactly. The improvement is one that has long been needed.

MT. PELEE ERUPTION

Display of Fireworks On the River, Closing Feature of the Pythian Carnival.

WITNESSED BY THOUSANDS.

Midway in Full Operation Until Near Midnight—Layton Company Leaves This Evening For Sumter—Final Word for the Fair.

With the eruption of Mont Pelee on the river and a final round at the shows on the midway until near midnight, the Pythian Carnival and Merchants' Fall Festival of 1902 this morning passed into history.

Of course the crowning feature of the day was the Mont Pelee display. It was witnessed by thousands and pronounced a success. As a representation of a volcano in eruption, although few of us have had an opportunity to witness an actual occurrence of that kind, we should say it was none the best, but the pyrotechnic display was very creditable. The eruption proper lasted about twenty minutes, and there was decidedly "something doing" during that brief period. The scenic effects were good, and from the crater a perfect fusillade of rockets and imitation lava went up wildly and beautifully into the air, with the roar and chaos attending that one would surmise nature would send along with such a disturbance.

The eruption was from three barges anchored near the middle of the stream and a safe distance from either shore. The people flocked to the river front in countless numbers, despite the raw weather and almost certain indications of a continuance of the cold, drizzling rain that came down occasionally all during the day. On Market street a number of seats had been constructed, circus-fashion, and these were sold at 25 cents each. Many paid the fee, which was for the benefit of the Pythians, but a few of the more obstinate ones stood back on their rights and demanded the use of the street. None of these were refused the privilege of exercising their rights as free American citizens, and all enjoyed the display. The steamers Wilmington and Compton took out large parties, and from the decks of each of the boats hundreds were delighted. In the various buildings overlooking the water many others got a splendid view of the performance.

Upon the whole, the display may be said to have been quite successful. It didn't come quite on time and many had a cold, disagreeable wait, but that was not the fault of the management. The weather was bad, very bad. While the pyrotechnics were being made ready, a funny clown paraded up and down the street and the Carnival bands gave open air concerts on the barges. The crowd had a much longer notice that the eruption was going to take place than did the inhabitants of Martinique, but the result in the end was by far not so disastrous. The eruption went off without an accident and property in no case was endangered by fire. If the weather had been fine and the people in good spirits, the success of the event would have known no bounds.

The crowds which thronged the midway last night were almost up to the dimensions of those on previous evenings, and all had a good time. They were not quite so good natured, however, but there were no untoward incidents.

The Layton Carnival Co. will leave this evening at 7 o'clock over the Atlantic Coast Line for Sumter, S. C., where a street fair opens to morrow night. Next it goes to Florence, then to Georgetown and to Charleston, S. C. Manager Layton, of the company, has made himself quite popular with Wilmington Pythians and should they give another fair next year, they would desire to be associated with him again. Personally, he has been kind and courteous, and has been disposed to do the "square thing" by the Knights.

The financial success of the Carnival has never been doubted since the first three days of the week when the weather was ideal and the crowds immense. The Pythians will receive as their share of the profits something over $2,000, and every cent of it will be used in furnishing their handsome new Castle Hall, over the Murchison National Bank building. And in speaking of the event, it is nothing but mete and proper that all honor should be paid to the chairmen of the various committees, who worked so industriously for the benefit. There's Chairman Fishblate, of the Executive Committee, a genial whole-souled Pythian, who has spent days and nights in Carnival harness. His friends say he looks like a skeleton after the week's work and it's not a wonder. As chairman of the Finance and Soliciting committees, Mr. H. E. Bonitz has put his entire time and energy to the work and that's saying a great deal. As chairman of the Transportation Committee and a member of several other committees, Mr. L. B. Rogers has been faithful and devoted. As chairman of the Mt. Pelee committee, Mr. T. D. Meares has been unlucky, but a winner in the end. Maj. W. F. Robertson as chairman of the Amusement Committee, has been all that could be desired and his counsel as to all Carnival matters has been sought. Mr. E. H. Munson, as chairman of the Music Committee, has looked after that department better than any other person could. He is a musician himself and the various open-air concerts and trolley parades bringing people down town, are a testimonial to his efficient service. The handsome electric welcome arch at Front and Chesnut streets, which was the cynosure of all eyes during the week, especially at night, is a monument to the memory of Dr. J. D. Nutt, chairman of the Decoration Committee. He has been valuable in all other work, too, and the Pythians owe him a lasting debt of gratitude. Col. Walker Taylor, as chairman of the Information Bureau, has well cared for a most important detail in the Carnival arrangement and his services in other departments have also been valuable. Perhaps to none others is due more credit than to Chairman B. O. Stone, of the Advertising Committee, and Chairman John J. Fowler, of the Parade Committee. A whole book might be written as to the labors of both these gentlemen, but the work of each during the past week was too well apparent to need further comment. Stone brought the crowds and Chairman Fowler had something for them to see, including a Queen, when they came. Mr. James F. Woolvin did well with the Country Store and while his work was not of the ostentatious kind, it will count when the cash balance is drawn. Nobody did better than Mr. John R. Turrentine, Jr., who was in executive control of the sale of confetti. His services were secured late, but they were none the less distinguished for that. He contributed much to the joy and merriment of the crowds and will turn into the Pythian exchequer a goodly sum. By mentioning the chairmen of committees it is not intended to disparage the efforts of the lay committeemen. Dr. Galloway, Mr. Jeff Hopkins, Capt. Oldham, Mr. John Littleton, Mr. Joe King, Mr. Harris Yopp, Capt. J. W. Harper, Mr. L. L. Boon, Mr. W. C. Von-Glahn, Mr. R. B. Clowe, Mr. R. S. Collins, Messrs. W. C. and C. D. Yarborough, J. H. Rehder, J. W. Fleet, E. V. Richards, R. H. Rubright, Anson Alligood, R. C. DeRosset, R. M. Capps, W. E. Perdew, E. F. Jones, J. C. McLeod, W. C. Smith, Alex Holden, G. W. Branch, L. O. Smith, J. L. Brimer, W. A. Caldwell, Col. W. J. Woodward, Capt. Jim Morrison, Eugene Fillyaw, J. M. Holmes, Trabue Barksdale, C. R. Branch, W. W. Hodges, C. H. White, E. C. Craft, Will Rehder, Geo. O. Gaylord, and many more—all these worked in season and out of season, and to each and every one of them great credit is due.

Chief of Police Furlong and his men also did great work during the week. There was one highway robbery but the robber was promptly "jugged." There were no reports of pickpockets for the Chief had the men sized up before they came here. The whole force did itself credit.

Every lady can save from $2.00 to $5.00 by purchasing a shirt-waist at Rehder's this week. †

CHILD LABOR.

There has been of late much said and written about child labor on Southern cotton mills. It has been the subject of so much adverse talk by men on the other side of the line that one might come to the conclusion that the South is the only section of the country in which children are worked in factories, or elsewhere where they should not be employed. It is somewhat remarkable that the first protests that came against the employment of children in the Southern cotton mills came from the milling sections of New England, where it was in all probability inspired more by selfish business considerations than by sympathy for the children. The State of Massachusetts, the principal cotton manufacturing State in New England, has laws which prohibit the employment of children under ten years of age in the cotton mills. These laws are enforced, enforced because public sentiment is behind them and because it is to the interest of grown operatives to keep the children out of the mills and thus prevent them from becoming competitors to some extent.

The New England mills have felt the effect of Southern competition, the success of which they attribute largely to cheaper labor in Southern mills, child labor forming a considerable part of it. If they could get rid of that they would thereby make labor scarce, start competition for it, run up the price, and thus deprive the Southern mill man of his advantage in this respect. This was doubtless the inspiration, to some extent, at least, of the New England opposition to child labor in Southern mills.

While there may be no children employed in the New England mills, the mill operators deserve no particular credit for this, for they cannot under the laws employ children under 10 years of age if they would, and probably they would not if they could, for that would not be for them profitable labor. It is not so considered in the South.

There may not be so many children employed in the mills of the North, but they are employed in other occupations, and as a matter of fact more of them are employed in various occupations than there are in the South, and notwithstanding the laws against child labor in most of the Northern States there are more children employed than there were in 1890. It would be reasonable to suppose the number would be larger if there were no laws against it, as the population increases, but the increase is out of proportion to the increase of population, as will be seen by the following figures taken from the census of 1890 and 1900, giving the number under 16 years of age employed in several Northern and Southern States:

	1890.	1900.
Alabama	1,425	3,474
Arkansas	403	643
Georgia	3,521	6,373
Illinois	5,426	10,419
Louisiana	612	1,231
Massachusetts	8,667	12,556
Missouri	3,491	4,510
New Jersey	5,813	8,042
North Carolina	4,733	10,377
Pennsylvania	22,419	33,135
South Carolina	2,309	8,560

Southern trade journals which have investigated this question dispute the accuracy of these figures as to the present time at least and declare that there are not nearly so many children employed in Southern mills as it is said there are by those who profess to be shocked at this child labor and at the number of children employed.

While we are no apologist for child labor, and do not believe in imprisoning young children either in factories or in schools (save in kindergartens, or something of that kind,) when they ought to be romping and enjoying their freedom, there are two sides to this question and extenuating conditions in many cases where children are employed in our mills. One phase of the question is thus presented by a writer in the Charlotte Mill News, writing about child labor in South Carolina mills. Asserting that children are not employed in those mills because it is thought profitable and therefore desirable, but for other reasons, he says:

"As an illustration of this, I saw a week or two ago, in a very fine mill, a little chit of a girl making unsuccessful attempts to piece up some broken ends on a spinning frame. The yarn was very fine, and I was surprised to find so young a hand on such work. I asked the superintendent what good such a hand was to him, and he replied: 'None. Only a source of trouble and expense. But her parents stipulate that she must be employed inside the mill or else the family would not work for me. The older members are expert hands, so I have to employ her, or some other superintendent will, and I would lose some good help.'"

The same reason is given by some of the operators of mills in this State who employ children, not because they want them but because to get the parents of the children they must take the children too.

Another phase of it he discusses thus:

May I ask if the child-labor agitators know the full responsibilities (in South Carolina) from the passage of an act of the Legislature prohibiting the employment of children under twelve years of age. In that State there is no compulsory educational act, and who will take care of the young children shut out from the mills during work hours? Their parents are at work, and they must be left to roam at will without the slightest moral curb. Will it be better for them to grow up wild, untutored, without discipline, to develop evil habits while their minds are in the plastic state, which the discipline of law and order will perhaps never eradicate, or be kept at work until the State will compel the parent to give them over to the safe keeping of the school?"

Although some of the parents may be actuated by sordid motives in insisting upon working their children, most of them doubtless do it to have the children near them when they have no one at home to look after them and prevent them from getting into mischief and contracting bad habits. But with all that has been or may be said against it the majority of the children thus employed are in easier and more comfortable conditions than they were used to before they were taken into the mills, for they are the children of parents who had to work hard before they went into the mills and acquired some skill and earned more money than they ever did before. In addition to this the employes as a rule are humane men, who feel kindly to those in their service and do not exact more from them more than is reasonable. Eight out of ten of them would in all probability get rid of the children in their mills if it were practicable and it could be done without creating friction and causing dissatisfaction among the parents of the children. In time they will doubtless get rid of them when the conditions become more favorable, and the parents take a different view of child labor from that so many of them do now.

CAN WE HOLD IT?

We have heretofore referred to the efforts being made to establish the cotton growing industry in Asia, Africa and in other countries, efforts encouraged by the Governments interested or having colonies in those countries, and by syndicates, who have become convinced that it is practicable and may be made profitable. Germany, England, Russia and other countries are determined if they can to make their mills independent of the American cotton fields for their supplies of cotton and the indications are encouraging for them. The following, which we clip from the Baltimore Sun, will give some idea of the proportions this movement is attaining and the earnestness with which it is being pursued:

Southern cotton growers have almost a monopoly of an indispensable raw material, but they should keep in view the new conditions created by the rapid extension of railroad facilities in parts of Africa and Asia, to say nothing of South America. The completion of the big dam at Assouan is expected to increase greatly the area given to cotton in Egypt. The culture of cotton is being tried at this moment in the Soudan, in the British Gold Coast Country, in the German Cameroons, in British East Africa, in Uganda and in the Russian provinces of Central Asia. Now it is proposed to establish the industry in Rhodesia. According to the Manchester Guardian "the executive committee of the British Cotton Growing Association has just been in communication with Maj. W. Craufurd Hurrell, a representative of the British South African Company (the Chartered Company), who has been getting information with regard to the growth of cotton in Rhodesia. In this country there are large tracts of good agricultural land. Cotton grows wild in all parts, and there is no doubt that a good quality can be grown by the adoption of proper methods. The only difficulty seems to be that of transport, but as the railway to the coast belongs to the Chartered Company no doubt a proper rate will be arranged. It is absolutely necessary for the future well being of Rhodesia that an port trade should be cultivated, and there seems to be a likelihood this may be obtained by the company going in for cotton growing. Samples of native cotton were shown by Major Hurrell, and were considered superior to middling America."

Of course it will take time, even if they eventually succeed, to become independent of the American cotton fields, for much of the work in Africa and elsewhere is still in an experimental stage, and much work is to be done in supplying transportation, labor, &c., but it is evident that this movement is a determined one and that the Southern cotton grower will be confronted with opposition that may prove formidable.

Kansas furnishes a remarkable instance of a Federal pensioner voluntarily surrendering his pension. He thought he was afflicted with stomach troubles and rheumatism, but became a Christian scientist, convinced that he had been laboring under a hallucination and that there are no such things as stomach troubles and rheumatism, and being possessed of a conscience he could no longer accept a pension granted on the grounds of the aforesaid ailments. But in the meantime the pension attorneys are persuading ex-soldiers that they have lots of stomach troubles, rheumatism, etc., etc., and the pension rolls elongate accordingly.

BULLDOZING THE INDEPENDENT PLANTS.

The U. S. Steel Trust, one of those "beneficent" institutions which makes a profit of about $140,000,000 a year, and most of it out of the American people, has served notice on the independent steel plants that there must be no cutting of prices, that if they want to do business they must follow the big Trust's schedule of prices and not go under them. It has the independent plants in its grip because it controls the main sources of supply of ore, and can cut the independent plants off, and with its immense capital and immense profits it can run prices down so low as to practically run the independent plants out of the market and shut them up for want of business. The independent plants realize this and therefore they will hardly fail to heed the warning and the big Trust will go on and make prices and big profits as heretofore.

It is said that a new steel combine has been organized and secured possession of extensive and rich ore beds, which will put it a position to compete with the big Trust, but the probabilities are that by the time it gets under way, if it gets under way at all, the big Trust will gobble up a majority of its stock and thus get it in its clutches if it shows any symptoms of becoming a troublesome competitor. What would a $50,000,000 combine amount to when it attempts to buck up against a billion dollar combine, otherwise equipped as the U. S. Steel Trust is?

It is master of the situation and will continue to be so while it has the tariff wall between it and foreign competition. With that out of the way the independent plants might make some progress and not be in the power of the U. S. Steel Trusts as they are now.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— There should be no objection to the cost of coast artillery target practice. It will be a deal more expensive some day if any gunners can't hit what they shoot at.—Washington Times, Rep.

—— That a collision between capital and labor will occur in the near future nobody doubts. Where two great header engines are rushing towards each other on a single track, and the throttle is wide open, and the engineers are crazy or drunk, you may set it down that something will give way and somebody will be hurt.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

—— As a result of the Congress elections, President Roosevelt finds himself in much the same position in which Mr, Cleveland found himself in his second term. Party sentiment, notably in the Western and Northwestern States, insists upon remedial tariff and trust legislation in the interest of the people as a whole. On the other hand, the Republican party Bosses and the great industrial interests that control them, say: "Hands off!"—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—— There is gradually going on in Great Britain amalgamation of industries, especially those in the iron and steel trades. The result there will be the same as here, only the trusts in the United Kingdom have absolutely no favor to expect from legislation for the benefit of monopoly. They will have to compete with all continental Europe, as well as with the United States, and we may be sure that the only advantage a combine in that country may realize will be in the greater economy of production the combination makes possible.—Chattanooga Times, Dem.

START RIGHT.

Two boys from childhood's sheltered lane
Into life's highway strode,
And each had naught but hand and brain
To help him win the road.

"Come on!" cried one. "Here's luck, forsooth;
There's work for miles ahead!"
Less eager stood the other youth,
"Consider first," he said.

"Consider well before you waste
Your years in fruitless toil,
Find out your calling; do not haste:
The work ahead won't spoil."

"'Tis waste of time to linger here,"
The first boy made reply,
He dropped a sad and pensive tear
And bade his friend good-bye.

The other waited by the way,
Determining his bent,
And when his calling called one day
He straight to fortune went.

Pray do not think the eager one
With like successes met.
Of all the callings he has none,
He's doing odd jobs yet.

Mr. Campfield was a native of Ireland, having come to this country in his youth.

— Greenville Reflector: The handsome residence of Dr. D. L. James was burned early Friday morning, and with it all the furniture above the first floor. — Goldsboro Argus: The mangled remains of a white man were found on the railroad track at Rose's crossing by the train crew which left here this (Friday) morning at 7:20 for Raleigh and Greensboro. Parties who have arrived in the city from the scene report that it was Calve Talton. He boarded the east-bound train at Princeton Thursday afternoon to come to Goldsboro and he got off at the asylum. He was drinking heavily and it is supposed that he became exhausted and lay down and went to sleep on the railroad track and was not found until this morning when the passenger train went west. The remains were horribly mangled and he could not be identified except by the clothes he wore.

Sulphur.

Sulphur occurs very widely distributed in the mineral kingdom, partly free and partly combined with other elements. The free sulphur is either found pure in regularly formed crystals or intimately mixed with earthy matters. In its native state sulphur is largely found in Sicily and Italy and as a general rule in abundance in volcanic districts. The brittleness of sulphur renders the cleavage imperfect.

Sulphuric acid is an important combination and a very dangerous one in inexperienced hands. Sulphur combined with a number of elements, such as iron, copper, lead, etc., furnishes the sulphides. In the vegetable kingdom sulphur is a small constituent of the albuminous bodies and of certain volatile irritant oils. Moreover, the vegetable juices contain it in the form of certain sulphates.

An East Indian Amulet.

In India a variety of gems and stones are used as amulets. The most common is the salagrama, a stone about as large as a billiard ball and which is perforated with black. This is supposed to be found only in Gandaki, a river in Nepaul. The person who possesses one of these stones is esteemed highly fortunate. He preserves it in a clean cloth, from whence it is sometimes taken to be bathed and perfumed. He believes that the water in which it is washed, if drunk, has the power to preserve from sin. Holding it in his hand, the dying Hindoo expires in peace, trusting in a stone rather than in the living God.

A Taste of Brogue.

An Englishman met a man at a French table d'hote, who addressed him in French. His accent betrayed him, and, rather rudely, the Briton said, "Ah, you are English."

"The devil a doubt of it, darlin'," replied the stranger.

"An Irishman, too, still better," went on the other.

"Well, thin, isn't it strange," said the man, "my French always shows me to be English and my English to be Irish?"

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, November 8.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of five to nine points on favorable cables and good general buying. Business was upon a heavy scale and the market continued active throughout the session, with prices after the opening call, however, quite irregular under local speculative influence, with a bearish assault made upon the January position, which led to a decline of four to five points, after which there was a renewed rally, with buying orders heavy from Europe and selling orders less numerous from the South. The demand was stimulated by the indication of record consumption observed in the absorption of the cotton which last week was 342,973 bales against 238,891 last year, the excess being 114,000 bales, while for the season the absorption was 356,000 bales greater than last year's for the same period of sixty-eight days following August 31st. The market was further helped by reports that the Southern spot markets were being relieved of pressure in the way of free offerings of late apparent. Substantial people were in evidence as buyers in the local market this morning. Selling for short account was more or less liberal, but always in a guarded way, owing to the heavy decline which has already taken place. Some parties picked up a good deal of cotton entirely on the reaction theory. The weather was not such as to change preconceived ideas regarding the crop.

NEW YORK, Nov 8.—Cotton quiet at 8.45c; net receipts 50 bales; gross receipts 1,477 bales; stock 56,576 bales.

Spot cotton closed dull; middling uplands 8.45c; middling gulf 8 70c; sales 1,011 bales.

THOROUGHLY CHINESE.

Canton Is One of the Oldest Cities In the World.

Canton, the capital of the province of Kwangtung, has a population of about 2,000,000 and is one of the oldest cities in the world, and until the port of Hongkong was opened it was the export city of the empire. Its old walls and fortifications, with their old guns, are all now obsolete and entirely neglected, remaining only as monuments of departed ages. They have never been of service except as warning of danger to an invading foe and no doubt had the desired effect until the last half century.

Canton is said to be absolutely and thoroughly Chinese, and there is no other city in the empire that is more so. There it exists today, with its narrow streets, its old temples, its wealth, its extreme poverty and its peculiarly constructed buildings, and when one considers the habits and customs of its people and their achievements in the arts so characteristic of that country, its ancient history so resplendent centuries ago, unless that history is a fable, and sees there now so much that is filthy and repugnant to common decency and civilization the present state of the country needs but to be seen to be condemned.

No stranger is respected or safe from insult within its limits unless he has official or military bearing or is in care of a trusty guide—one of their own countrymen, armed with plenary license and power.

Friendly Foes In Kentucky, 1862.

In these matters of principle not a hand was raised to prevent a free choice. No feeling of personal hatred stood between those who saw life's duty differently. A neighbor to the right of a little home called one evening on his neighbor to the left. He kissed the children and shook hands with the parents.

"I may not see you again. Tonight I go to join Morgan," he said.

The host went to his little wardrobe, took therefrom his greatcoat, thrust a pistol into the pocket and threw it over the arm of his guest. Both were poor men, and winter approached. The recipient attempted to return it. "No," said the donor—"no, you take this coat. Your path is to be one of privation; besides, I won't need it. Tomorrow morning I start north to enlist. My government has overcoats to spare, and pistols too. You who go south may find neither. God bless you, friend. May we return to meet again."—Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly.

Through Other Spectacles.

Some very good stories are told of the impression made upon those who attend for the first time the very high church Episcopalian service, with its elaborate ritual and its extraordinary musical features, at the Church of St. Mary the Virgin. The reply of a very prominent Catholic priest when asked by the friend who had taken him there how he liked the service, "Well, really, I prefer the simple ritual of my own church," is a current story at the clubs.

Even more amusing was the comment of the elderly Scotchwoman whose relatives said to her as they were leaving after the service:

"Well, Aunt Janet, did you enjoy the service?"

"A' weel," said Janet in response, "it's verra interestin', but what a w'y to spend the Sabbath!"—New York Times.

A Wrestle With German.

An estimable woman of Milwaukee is an earnest member of a local German class, but her method of pronouncing some of the words, at least in one specific instance, aroused the mirth of her companions. At a recent meeting of the class one of the questions in the day's exercise was, "Are you not glad that you are able to learn German?" This query was in the foreign language, and the answer was, "Ja, gewiss," meaning, "Yes, certainly." It so happened that this particular woman was called up to read the question and answer. She got through the question all right, but convulsed the class by reading the answer this way, "Ya; gee whiz!"

Don't Be a Pest.

If you can't oblige people in any other way, you can at least let them alone. Half the troubles of people are due to idle and impudent interference in their affairs. Half the time when you make a vigorous kick there is no kick coming to you. One of the worst habits people have is making each other unnecessary trouble. Life is hard enough at best. Don't be a pest. If you can't help others, you can at least let them alone.—Atchison Globe.

The Country of Tin.

Britain is "the country of tin," great quantities being found there. The Greeks called it Albion, which signifies either "white" or "high," from the whiteness of its shores or the high rocks on the western coast.

Scotland Wet and Dry.

The driest part of Scotland is the area bounded by the Forth and Tweed, the yearly rainfall along the coast between these two rivers never exceeding thirty inches. The Trossachs district is the wettest part of Scotland, the average yearly rainfall being nearly eighty inches.

Penny Situps.

Some of the cheap lodging houses in London are called "penny situps." They are mere benches, with wooden backs. Each lodger places his arms upon the back of the bench before him, and then, resting his head upon his arms, tries to sleep.

The Planchette.

The planchette was invented in 1855 and was for a time, both here and in Europe, an object of considerable superstition.

A Story of Professor Huxley.

Professor Huxley, Dr. Wayland declared, was once sitting at dinner beside a lady who in impassioned tones asked him whether he did not think it a very terrible thing that the Rev. Mr. Jones, the vicar, should have adopted the eastward position in administering the sacrament. "My dear lady," he replied, "I am told by Sir John Herschel that to drop a pea at the end of every mile of a voyage on a limitless ocean to the distance of the nearest fixed star would require a fleet of 10,000 ships, each of 600 tons burden, all starting with a full cargo of peas. Now, do you really suppose that the Maker of the fixed stars considers this new position of Mr. Jones a serious thing?"

Some Phonetic Spelling.

Before we complain of the spelling of our daughters we should perhaps take exception to the pronunciation of our fathers. Most of the eccentricities in spelling common to children arise from their attempts to reproduce words as they hear them pronounced by their elders. A child who was told to make a list of all the fruits she knew wrote down, "Apls, strorbriz, rarsbriz, goozbris, bnarners." Another spelled the word "idea" with the addition of an "r." "Idear!" exclaimed her teacher. "That is a funny way of spelling idea." Her pupil, however, was not to be outdone. "I know," she answered readily, "but I spelled it that way for short."—London Chronicle.

When a Japanese Hurries.

In Japan the man of "quality" never forces his steed out of a walk. If the errand is one which demands speed, the rider dismounts, ties the fore legs of his animal together and strikes off at a brisk gallop on foot.

Soldiers' Consolers.

The cantinieres form a rank which is peculiar to the French army. Each regiment has a woman attendant who is a sort of nurse and consoler to the young soldiers especially. She is not young or handsome, as a rule, and is often married to a soldier of the regiment.

I have found Dr. Moffett's TEETHINA a splendid remedy and aid for my teething children. When my oldest boy was a teething child, every succeeding day warned us that we would inevitably lose him. I happened upon TEETHINA, and began at once administering it to him, and his improvement was marked in 24 hours, and from that day on he recuperated. I have constantly kept it and used it since with my children, and have taken great pleasure in sounding its praises to all mothers of young children. I found it invaluable even after the teething period was passed.

TWO MEN LOST THEIR LIVES.

And Two Boys Narrowly Escaped Death. Fire in Cellar of the New York Times Building.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Two men lost their lives and two boys narrowly escaped a similar fate during a fire which communicated from the subway to the mailing and press rooms in the cellar of the New York Times' building to-day. The men and boys were overcome by smoke in a small room used for mailing purposes in the front of the cellar close to where the fire started.

The fire originated in the explosion of a gasoline lamp burning on one side of a wooden partition separating the rapid transit subway from the cellar of the Times' building. The partition, which was covered on both sides with tarpaulin, blazed fiercely, setting fire to a tank containing printing ink, which speedily ignited and gave forth dense clouds of smoke that soon filled the cellar and rose up the elevator shafts. The fire was extinguished in fifteen minutes. The damage, which was confined to the cellar, was estimated at $5,000.

REPORT DENIED.

That President Roosevelt Favors Reduction of Representation in the South.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—"There is no authority for coupling the name of the President with the statement published to-day that the administration is in favor of a change in the basis of and a reduction in the representation of the Southern States in Republican national conventions and in the House of Representatives."

Postmaster General Payne made this statement to-day as he left the executive office after a conference with the President.

"My position on the question of the basis of representation in Republican national conventions," continued Mr. Payne, "is well understood. For many years I have believed that the present basis is unfair and an improper one. I believe so now, and expect always to believe so, and I hope to see that basis changed by the next national convention. There is no power to change the basis of representation except by action of the convention itself."

INDIANA GHOULS.

Leaders of the Gang Pointed Out Graves in Cemeteries They Had Robbed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 8.—Rufus Cantrill and John McEndree, leaders of the gangs of ghouls, pointed out between thirty and forty graves which they said were robbed by them to detectives to-day. The ghouls were taken to the Ebenezer and Anderson cemeteries for the purpose. The detectives wanted the names of other bodies stolen in order that warrants may be sworn out. At the Anderson cemetery the sexton told the detectives that about forty graves in the place were empty. Cantral pointed out the graves of a woman and her daughter as among those he had robbed. Cantrill said he stole the body of the woman by agreement with her husband and paid him half of the $30 which a prominent local physician paid for the body. The daughter died a short time afterward and Cantrill said he was at the grave the night after the funeral and stole the body.

Coastwise Shipping Practically Paralyzed in Norfolk, Va., Harbor.

MANY VESSELS DELAYED.

All Communication With Hatteras Cut Off—No Disasters Reported—Wind Velocity at Kitty Hawk Fifty-two Miles an Hour.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 8.—Coastwise shipping is paralyzed in Norfolk harbor and Hampton Roads by the heavy northeast gale that has been raging off the Virginia and Carolina coast since last night. Hundreds of sailing craft and coal carrying vessels and many large schooners loaded with timber are weather bound in the roads, while along the inner harbor a number of long tows from the sounds are anchored waiting for lighter weather. All communication with Hatteras has been cut off since last night by the wires blowing down. At Kittyhawk the wind blew fifty-two miles an hour, and at Cape Henry a thirty-eight mile wind and very high sea prevailed nearly all day. No disasters along the coast have been reported.

Venezuelan Government Releases U. S. Consul Baiz From Whom It Attempted to Collect a Forced Loan.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, November 8.—The trip of the gunboat Marietta to Barcelona resulted in a satisfactory settlement of the case of Vice United States Consul Baiz, at that place. Several days ago Mr. Baiz complained to Minister Bowen that the Venezuelan government threatened to collect a forced loan from him. Mr. Baiz is a wealthy man and although a native of St. Thomas, the Venezuelan rebels set up the claim that he was a citizen of the country and attempted to take a loan from him under duress. Without consulting the department Minister Bowen dispatched the Marietta to the scene, subsequently notifying the department of his action. To-day Commander Diehl reported from LaGuaira, to which place the Marietta returned yesterday, that the case had been settled satisfactorily and that he would send particulars by mail.

Later, the State Department was notified that the guards had been removed from Mr. Baiz's house and office, and assurances had been given by the authorities that he would not be molested again. The department is well pleased at what it regards as the firm and wise management of this case by Commander Diehl.

DEATH BY STRANGULATION.

One of Barnum & Bailey's Elephant's Became Unmanageable and Had to be Killed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mandarin, an elephant of the Barnum and Bailey circus, was hung by strangulation to-night in his cage on the main deck of the steamship Minneapolis of the Atlantic Transport Line. A two-inch hawser was fastened to a drum of a "winch" engine. The engines were started at the same time and ran slowly at first until the hawser was taut about the animal's neck, when the speed was increased and the hawser quickly tightened. In a minute and a half the hind legs sank to the floor of the cage and the elephant was unconscious. Just eight minutes after the engines had been started Mandarin was pronounced dead. The cage containing the body was then hoisted from the ship by a crane and loaded on a barge, in which it was towed about twenty miles out to sea and sunk the cage being weighted with about five thousand pounds of old railroad iron.

Mandarin was the largest elephant in captivity at the time of his death, and had been with the Barnum and Bailey circus for twenty-four years. He weighed five tons and stood nine feet ten inches high.

The elephant had recently become unmanageable, rendering his destruction necessary.

RAILROAD TRAIN MEN

Strike Will Be Ordered If Demand For Higher Wages Is Refused.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has voted in favor of a strike, in case the railroads in the Chicago district shall refuse an increase of more than 2½c. an hour wages. Although the Brotherhood has voted for a strike, its members are not likely to quit work. Before the vote was taken, some of the railroad managers had announced that a greater increase in wages would be allowed the men than at first offered. It is probable that as soon as the result of the vote shall have been announced, another conference will be held. At this conference it is expected that an increase of four cents an hour will be offered and this offer will be accepted.

WOMAN MURDERED.

ATHENS, TENN., Nov. 8.—Mrs. P. J. Henderson, wife of a well-to-do farmer who lives at Carlock, Tenn, was found murdered on the mountain side near her home this morning. She had been shot in two places, one bullet penetrating the heart. A sum of money which she was known to have was missing.

MOB DISPERSED.

State Militia Still Guarding the Jail at Anniston, Ala.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., Nov. 8.—A special from Anniston, Alabama, today reports that the mob which assembled at that place yesterday and last night to lynch the negro Jason Baker, suspected of having assaulted and robbed Mrs. Williams, has dispersed. Four companies of troops are guarding the jail. Mrs. Williams is in a critical condition.

Nearly all the independent telephone companies in South Carolina have been bought by the Bell Company.

SHARP BREAK IN THE STOCK MARKET.

The Steel Trust and Sugar Trust the Heaviest Sufferers—Disquieting Rumors in Circulation.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Stocks broke sharply at the opening of the market under the lead of American Sugar Refining and United States Steel shares, and also influenced by declines of one half to three-quarters of a point for some American shares in London before the local opening. Soon the entire list gave way on heavy selling.

Two news reports did much to unsettle prices—the advices from Chicago that the yard men in the general switching terminals of that city had refused to accept the offer of the eighteen companies in reply to their demands for an increase of five cents an hour in wages—the officials being willing to make an increase of half that amount. The other report was that Secretary Shaw had decided not to make further deposits with national banks at present. On top of this came an apparently authentic statement that the big banks had come to the decision to make no more time loans for less than six per cent., and that they intended to discriminate sharply in regard to the character of the collateral on which they would extend such accommodtaions.

A fall of 2¼ points in the United States Steel preferred shares attracted attention, in view of the fact that today's low price, 84½, was the lowest ever touched by the stock except on the panic day, May 9, 1901, when it broke violently from 98 to 69, recovering most of loss before the close.

Declines of two points or more were scored in some issues, with some losses in some of the specialties. Lackawana, in which the sale had previous had been made at 250 on Thursday, dropped 19 points without an intervening sale; 260 shares being transferred in a single block at 231.

Various rumors of a disquieting nature were in circulation all day, but were not confirmed.

THE BOSTON MURDERS.

Another Development — Negro Who Pawned the Watches in Custody.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The strange case involving the murder of two young women, Agnes McPhee and Clara A. Morton, and the murderous assaults upon many others, was a step nearer solution to-day, for late to-night the police were given the custody of the young man who sold or, as he thought, pawned the watches which were taken by the so called "Jack-the-Slugger" from the bodies of his victims.

The person in custody is a light complexioned negro, eighteen years of age. His name is George L. O. Perry. He has confessed that he received the watches which he sold from a man in Central Square, Cambridge. He has given the name of this man to the police, but the latter to-night refused to state whether or not he gave the name of Alan G. Mason, the prominent Boston man who is under detention at the Middlesex county jail in Cambridge, on the charge of having murdered Miss Clara A. Morton.

AGED WOMAN MURDERED.

Found Dead in Bed With Skull Fractured. Her Husband Arrested.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Mary Ann McCusker, sixty years of age, was found dead in bed at her home in this city to-day. She had been killed by some unknown person with a blunt instrument. The woman's skull was fractured. Her husband, Patrick, seventy years old, is under arrest. The aged couple occupied two rooms in a tenement of which Mrs. McCusker was the house-keeper. McCusker, who was formerly an umbrella peddler, and had a small pension as a war veteran, went to a police station this morning and said his wife was dead.

Detectives found hidden under the bed a blood stained axe with which Mrs. McCusker apparently had been killed, but no signs of a struggle could be found. When the axe was shown to McCusker he admitted it was his. He said some former tenants of the building must have avenged themselves on his wife.

WRECK ON THE BIG FOUR.

Train With a Party of Bankers Bound South Collided With a Freight.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 8.—A special from Marysville, Ohio, says that the Big Four special train, carrying 125 bankers, from this city and all points in northern Ohio en route to New Orleans, collided head on with a freight five miles south of Marysville late this afternoon. But one man was killed. He was a railroad man and was known by the name of "Ducky," and is said to have lived in Lorain, O. He was riding on the baggage car immediately back of the tender and was crushed to death. None of the passenger cars was derailed and none of the bankers was hurt. The bankers were enabled to proceed on their journey in about three hours.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFAY.

One Man Killed and Another Mortally Wounded at Independence, Ky.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

INDEPENDENCE, KY., Nov. 8.—Nicholas Hopperton, town marshal of this place, was shot and killed this afternoon by William Rice, a farmer. Rice had come to town intoxicated and carrying a shotgun. The marshal arrested him and disarmed him, but subsequently gave him his gun as he was about to leave town. In a few minutes Rice returned and dared the marshal to arrest him. The marshal advanced to disarm him when Rice fired and the marshal fell, mortally wounded. He, however, fired several shots at Rice, each shot striking. Hopperton died in a few minutes. Rice's wounds are said to be mortal.

EMPEROR WILLIAM AND KING EDWARD

Arrival of the German Imperial Yacht Hohenzollern at Port Victoria.

IMPOSING NAVAL DISPLAY.

Emperor William Rode to Shorncliff Camp Where He Reviewed the Troops While Rain Fell in Torrents—Police Precautions.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William on board, accompanied by the escorting German cruiser and a flotilla of British torpedo boats reached Port Victoria at 1 o'clock this morning.

The arrival of the German Emperor was made the occasion of an imposing naval display. All the warships at Sheerness were dressed, their crews manned the decks and the usual salutes welcomed the Imperial visitor.

After breakfast, Emperor William landed, the crew of the Hohenzollern manning ship and cheering lustily and the British warships firing another salute as the Emperor boarded a train for Dover on his way to Shorncliffe Camp. Unusual precautions were taken by the railroad officials. All traffic was stopped along the route to Dover half an hour before the Imperial special train was due. Large British and German detective staffs were on duty at the junctions, and the approaches to the stations were closely watched and cleared of spectators during the passage of the train.

It was raining when Emperor William left the train at Dover, whence, mounted on one of his own chargers, he rode to Shorncliffe Camp, accompanied by Lord Roberts and a brilliant staff. Prior to starting for the camp Emperor William received three addresses from representatives of local bodies, to all of whom he replied simply: "I thank you very much for coming to see me."

His majesty arrived at the review ground at the head of the cavalcade, with Lord Roberts at his side, and reviewed some 600 men of his regiment. The inspection lasted only ten minutes, the Emperor passing down the line while torrents of rain were falling and in the teeth of a gale of wind. His majesty, however, keenly scrutinized the officers, men and horses. He then proceeded to the saluting base. After the march past, the dragoons formed a hollow square and Emperor William briefly addressed the regiment.

Emperor William and the officers then went to the mess room of the regiment, where his majesty had lunch. Subsequently he was driven in a closed carriage to Shorncliffe station and took a train for Sandringham.

With the exception of the Shorncliffe review the reception of Emperor William was everywhere lacking in formalities, he having specially requested that guards of honor and similar attentions be dispensed with.

After the luncheon Lord Basing toasted Emperor William and referred to the intense gratification felt by the regiment at the Emperor's speech on the reviewing ground and to the munificent present his majesty had sent during the war for the support of the wives and children of the men serving in South Africa.

In replying the Emperor said: "I am extremely honored and very happy to hear that the sum I devoted to the wives and children of the dragoons who departed for the war has done so much good. I think the best way of marking this day in the history of the regiment is by adding another sum thereto, in the hope that it may do an equal amount of good."

Emperor William reached Wolferton at 6 P. M. He was met at the station by King Edward and their majesties drove to Sandringham.

"I wrote to Dr. Pierce for his advice."

The lady, from whose letter we quote, got what she wrote for, and is a well woman to-day as a result of following Dr. Pierce's advice and using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the medicine which makes weak women strong and sick women well. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I can truthfully say that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine and deserves the praise given it," writes Mrs. Emma Spooner, of Lakeview, Montcalm Co., Mich., Box 288. "I was sick four months, and the medicine prescribed by the doctors did me no good. Finally I wrote to Dr. Pierce for his advice. He answered in a very kind letter instructing me what to do. I followed his advice and to-day am a well woman, thanks to Dr. Pierce."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with "Favorite Prescription" whenever a laxative is required.
